

FRIENDSHIP express!

This is a great "Getting to know you" activity. It works like speed-dating. Everyone rotates which table they sit at for 3 minutes getting to know the other person sitting with them. This was such a great activity and everyone had a wonderful time.

SET UP

Set up in one of the longer rooms in your building. Place the small classroom tables to make a booth-like set up. Then place a small flower arrangement or some kind of centerpiece in the middle of each table. Also tape a note-card to each table with a question on it. At the far end of the room set up a "dining car" area with the refreshments.

I thought these were so simple and cute. Regular cans painted white with flowers.

Questions

On each table was a question that they could use only if they needed it for conversation. Examples of questions were. Where did you grow up? How many children do you have? What is your favorite cold cereal etc.

Conductor

Have whoever is in charge wear a conductors outfit. Use a train whistle. (if you can find one) This person is in charge of blowing the whistle to start and end each 3 minute session. (the time goes way faster than you think it will)

Dinning Car

You can serve all finger foods. Pause after every 4 rotations to get treats. They can then take their plates with them as they visit.

* You can also change the set up so that the older sisters stay in one "booth" and the younger sisters rotate. Instead of one question on each table leave a whole list so they can pick and choose.*

I am attaching an invitation that you can fill in the date/time info. Fold it at the top and put any additional info inside or just cut out train.
