Story: Using a red fine tip marker, outline the stitch marks on the [eight] baseballs. Laminate and cut out each baseball. Color and laminate the picture of the Latter-day Saint League Family.

Game - Living Room Baseball

Game Preparation - Laminate and cut out the thirty-two number tiles, and eight "OUT" tiles. Clear an open area in your living room. Using sheets of paper, frisbees, etc. make a baseball diamond with three bases and a home plate. Make a score board on a sheet of paper to keep track of outs, runs and innings. Place all of the number tiles and "OUT" tiles in a large bowl or basket.

Object - To be the team with the highest score at the end of nine innings.

Game Play - Begin by dividing the family into two baseball teams. Have each team come up with a team name that represents them. Write the team names on the score board. Flip a coin to determine which team will bat first. The team that is at bat first determines a batting order. The first batter draws a tile from the container. Make sure that the container is high enough that the batter cannot see the tiles while drawing. The number on the tile determines what question number the batter is to answer. Beneath the number it will say: "First Base", "Second Base" or "Home Run". If the batter incorrectly answers the question correctly he can move to which ever base is indicated on his tile. If he answers correctly it is considered an "OUT". If a batter draws an "OUT" tile, the team receives an out and the batters turn is over. The tiles should always be placed back in the container. Do not worry if the same number tiles are drawn throughout the game. Repetition is how we learn. The next batter then draws a tile and the process is repeated. Once a team receives three outs, it is the other teams turn to bat. If a team is considered one inning once both teams have had a turn at bat. As each batter has his or her turn at bat, they will move to bases if the question is answered correctly. If there are other runners on bases, they also move the amount of bases indicated on the batters tile. For example, if there is a runner on second base and the batter answers a question correctly that indicates "Third Base", the batter would advance to "Third Base" pushing in the runner on second base. Each time a batter crosses "Home Plate" they receive one run. The game is over once nine innings have been played. For a shorter game, play fewer innings. To make it an extra special baseball game serve food items that you would normally have at a baseball game. For example: pretzels, popcorn, peanuts, hot dogs, pop, etc.

PRIESTHOOD DISCUSSION SHEET

Join The Latter-day Saint League

Upholding and magnifying the priesthood is a TEAM EFFORT. It requires all family members to work together for the good of the whole TEAM. Within the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints neither the man nor the woman are considered more privileged than the other. "Men have their work to do and their powers to exercise for the benefit of all the members of the Church" and women have special gifts that are to be used for the benefit of mankind. Each equally shares this responsibility and they become true team-mates. Children aid the team effort by supporting priesthood holders in the home and living worthily enough to obtain the blessings that come from the priesthood. Join the Latter-day Saint League and constantly make an effort to live the commandments, attend your Church meetings and live worthy of the privilege of having God's priesthood authority on the earth today. What a wonderful blessing it is!

"B" is for BLESSINGS

As members of the Church, some of the most valuable blessings in our lives come through the priesthood.

DISCUSSION: Discuss as a family how the priesthood has blessed your lives individually and as a whole.

"A" is for AUTHORITY

Our Heavenly Father graciously shares his priesthood power with all worthy male members of the Church. His priesthood gives men the authority to act in his name, to administer the ordinances of salvation, preach the gospel and govern God's kingdom on earth.

DISCUSSION: Discuss as a family what a tremendous power the priesthood is. The priesthood power was used to create the heavens, it was used to create this earth. The priesthood governs everything and keeps it in perfect order.

"S" is for SALVATION

Through the priesthood, God can bring to pass his work and glory which is to "bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of man." Moses 1:39

DISCUSSION: Discuss as a family what some of the necessary ordinances of the gospel are and how your family has or can benefit from these ordinances.

"E" is for EQUALITY

In order for us to achieve exaltation, both a man and a woman must be worthy and work together as partners. This cannot be achieved alone.

DISCUSSION: Discuss as a family how each family member can work together as a team to show support for priesthood holders and how by doing so each family member can benefit from the blessings of the priesthood.

"B" is for BRETHREN

Only worthy male members are allowed to hold the priesthood. God makes several promises to worthy priesthood holders. Read D&C 84:33-44. (They will be sanctified by the Spirit, their bodies will be renewed, they will become God's chosen heirs, they will receive the Father and the Son and they will receive all that the Father has and become Gods.) The priesthood holders promise that they will receive the priesthood and magnify it.

DISCUSSION: Discuss as a family how you can support the male priesthood holders in your home and help them to be worthy of their priesthood.

"A" is for ADMINISTER

A man can bless the lives of his family when he uses the priesthood properly. Read D&C 121:41.

DISCUSSION: Discuss as a family how the priesthood should be administered.

"L" is for LESSER

The Aaronic priesthood is the lesser priesthood. The Aaronic priesthood was named after Aaron who had the priesthood conferred upon him.

There are four offices in the Aaronic priesthood: deacon, teacher, priest and bishop. Each office has certain duties that are to be performed.

- A young man becomes a deacon at the age of twelve. His duties include passing the sacrament, collecting fast offerings and assisting the bishop in watching over the ward.
- At the age of fourteen, a young man can become a teacher. His duties include everything a deacon is supposed to do, plus preparing the bread and water for the sacrament and helping church members live the commandments.
- A young man at the age of sixteen becomes a priest. His duties include everything deacons and teachers are to do, plus baptizing, administering the sacrament, ordaining other deacons, teachers and priests and preaching the gospel to those around him.
- The bishop is the president of the priests quorum. He is ordained and set apart over the Aaronic priesthood in his ward, but he is also ordained a high priest. The bishop can then preside over all of the ward members.

The Melchizedek priesthood is the greater priesthood. It is named after a great high priest by the name of Melchizedek. There are five offices in the Melchizedek priesthood: elder, high priest, patriarch, seventy and Apostle.

- The elders duties can be found by reading D&C 20:42-45 and D&C 20:70.
- The high priests duties include officiating in the Church and being in charge of all spiritual things. A high priest may also officiate in the lesser offices.
- A patriarch is authorized to give patriarchal blessings.
- A seventy is a special witness of Jesus Christ
- An Apostle is also a special witness of Jesus Christ. They are given the keys of the kingdom of God, but only the Prophet can exercise all of the keys. All of the other Apostles act under the Prophet's direction.

"L" is for LAYING ON OF HANDS

Men today receive the priesthood the same way men received the priesthood long ago, by the laying on of hands. The priesthood cannot be bought or sold and no one can take the priesthood authority upon themselves. It must be conferred upon them by a worthy male who already holds the priesthood.
