Suggested Songs: "I Hope They Call Me On A Mission", pg. 169 (Childrens)
"We'll Bring The World His Truth", pg. 172 (Childrens)
"Called To Serve", pg. 249 (Hymn)

Scriptures: D&C 6:3, D&C 58:64, D&C 133:37

Story: Color graphics with markers, colored pencils, chalks, etc. Use flannel, or laminate and cut out and place magnets on back of graphics, etc.

I Want To Be A Missionary Game: Preparation - Color the houses on the game board as desired. Using colored pencils (they work the best), color each "STOP" space red. There are eight "STOP" spaces. Color each "RECEIVE" space yellow. Color each "LOSE" space blue. Place the two game board sheets side by side, trimming the one on the dotted line. Piece together and adhere on back. Laminate game board. Color, laminate and cut out "MISSIONARY" cards. Color, laminate and cut our "BLESSING TOKENS". Each player will need a game token. They can either find one or design and draw one on cardstock. You will need a die.

Object - To be the player to reach the "HOME SWEET HOME" space with the most "BLESSING TOKENS".

Play - All players place their game pieces on the house at the "START" of the game. Each player is given one "BLESSING TOKEN". The first player is determined by rolling the die. The first player to roll a "One" goes first. In order for a player to move off the house or "START" position, the player must roll a "One". If a player lands on a "RECEIVE" space, they receive the number of "BLESSING TOKENS" indicated and the player gets to continue taking his or her turn as long as he or she lands on a "RECEIVE" space. Once a player lands on a "LOSE" space, they lose the number of "BLESSING TOKENS" indicated, and their turn ends until the next round. Each player must stop at each "STOP" space. The player's turn automatically ends once stopping at a "STOP" space. Once a player reaches the "STOP" receive your mission call space, the player draws a mission card and follows the instructions on the card. Once a player reaches the "HONORABLE RELEASE" space at the end of the game, the player must remain on this space until the next round. Each player continues to the end of the game board. Once this is accomplished, each player counts his or her "BLESSING TOKENS". The player with the most tokens wins. If for some reason you run out of tokens before the game is completed, simply use pennies, dry beans, etc. for extra tokens.

Missionary Carmel Corn

Ingredients:

- 7 cups Trix cereal
- 1/3 cup brown sugar
- 1/3 cup butter
- 2 Tbsp. light corn syrup
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/4 tsp. baking soda

Directions:

Mix brown sugar, butter, and corn syrup in a 1 1/2 quart saucepan. Heat mixture over medium heat about three minutes, stirring occasionally, until butter is melted and mixture begins to boil. Cook, without stirring four minutes longer. (Mixture will boil and turn golden brown.) Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla and baking soda until mixture is foamy. Pour over cereal: stir to coat evenly. Place on a cookie sheet. Bake at 300 degrees for 25 minutes, stirring occasionally. Loosen from sides and bottom of pan with metal spatula. Cool and ENJOY!!!!!!

Missionaries, Members and Me

Danny was so excited because many of his friends and family were coming to church to hear his older brother, David, speak. David was leaving on a mission to serve in Japan.

David would soon be entering the Missionary Training Center in Provo, Utah to learn how to speak Japanese. David was nervous about learning such a hard language, but he knew that Heavenly Father would help him to succeed.

Danny sat quietly on the church bench waiting for David to give his talk. He was so surprised that while David was speaking, he looked right at him and asked if he would also be a missionary.

A confused look came upon Danny's face. How could he be a missionary in a place like Hamilton, Montana? "Don't you have to go somewhere special to be a missionary?" he thought. Anyway, he was too young to be a missionary.

Later that night when Danny watched his brother pack two large suitcases, he asked David what he had meant earlier in church. David stopped his packing and sat down upon the edge of the bed, wrapping his arm around his younger brother.

"Danny," he said "there are lots of different kinds of missionaries."

He reminded Danny about Brother and Sister Madsen, who were older and who were serving in Denmark. He talked about missionaries who were working on Temple Square in Salt Lake City and at other temples all around the world.

"Missionaries come in all shapes and sizes and of many different ages," David continued.

Danny, you can be a missionary just by being kind to others, setting a good example, being helpful and courteous and by being a good friend.

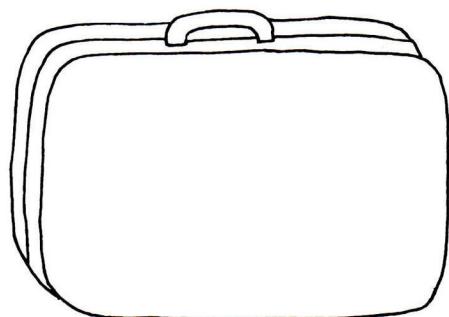

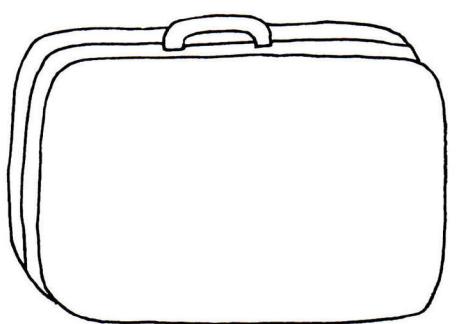

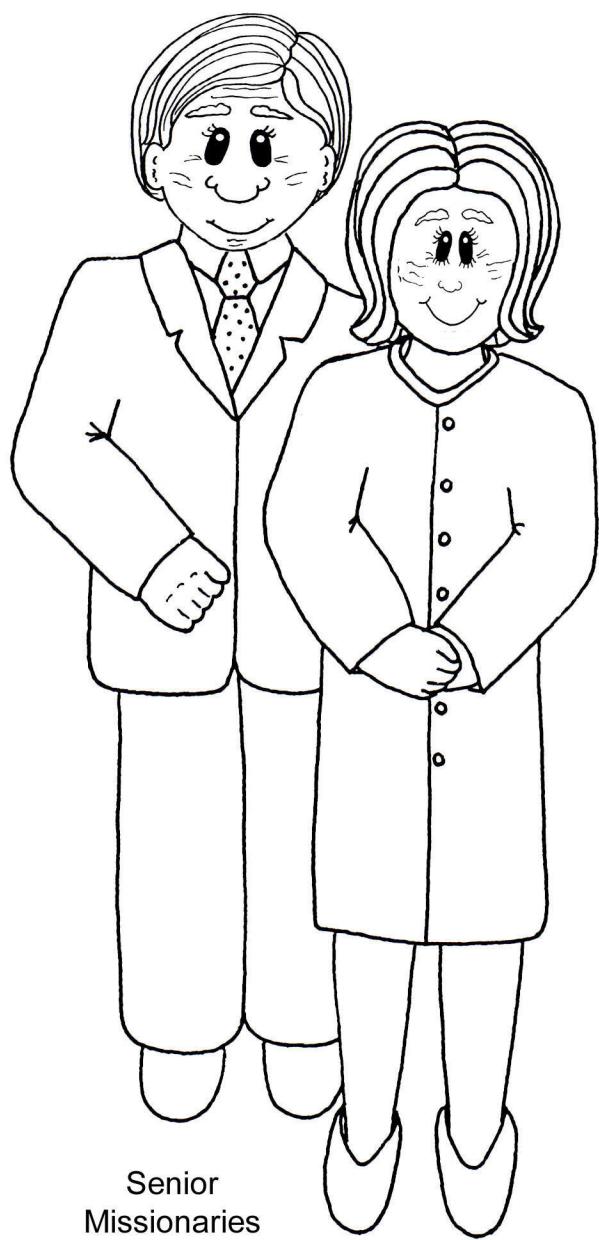

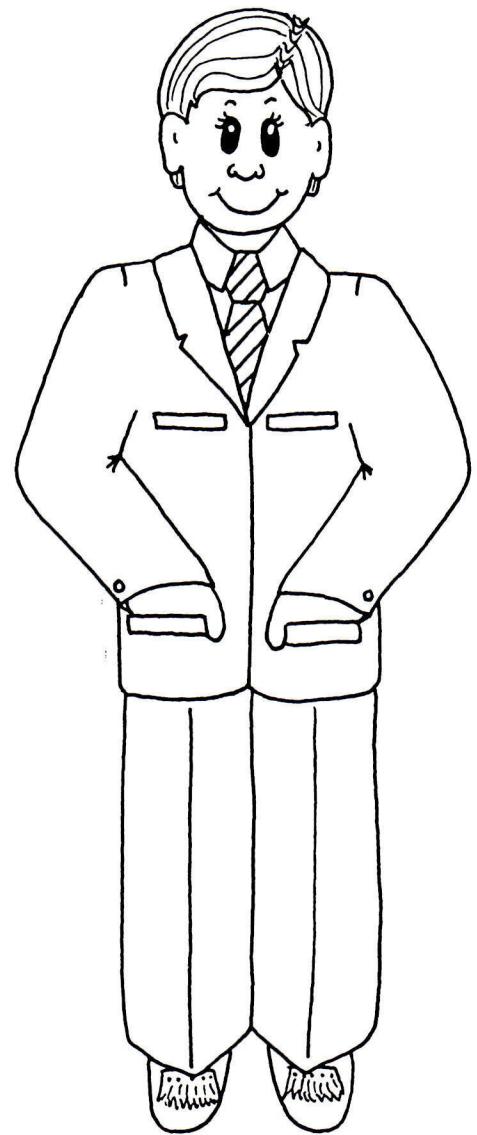

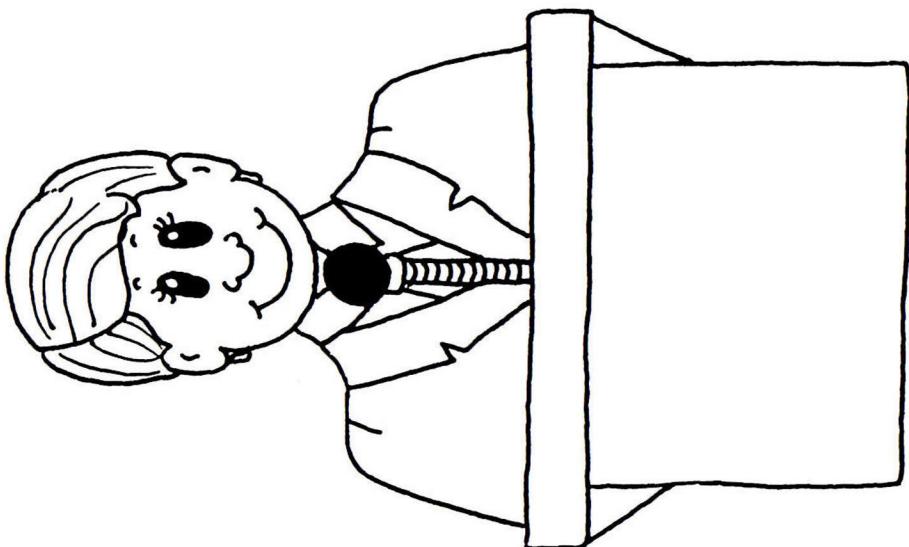

Danny thought about how happy the Church had made him. He loved Primary and seeing all of his friends. He always learned something from his Primary teachers and leaders. He needed to tell others about what he had learned.

It was very hard to say goodbye to David at the MTC but the ride home didn't seem quite so long when the family began talking about how the missionaries had taught them and what a blessing it had been to have been converted to the gospel of Jesus Christ.

"Just think," Father said, "how wonderful our lives have been since we became members of 'The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.' Heavenly Father has asked us to share this happiness with everyone we can and be an example to the world."

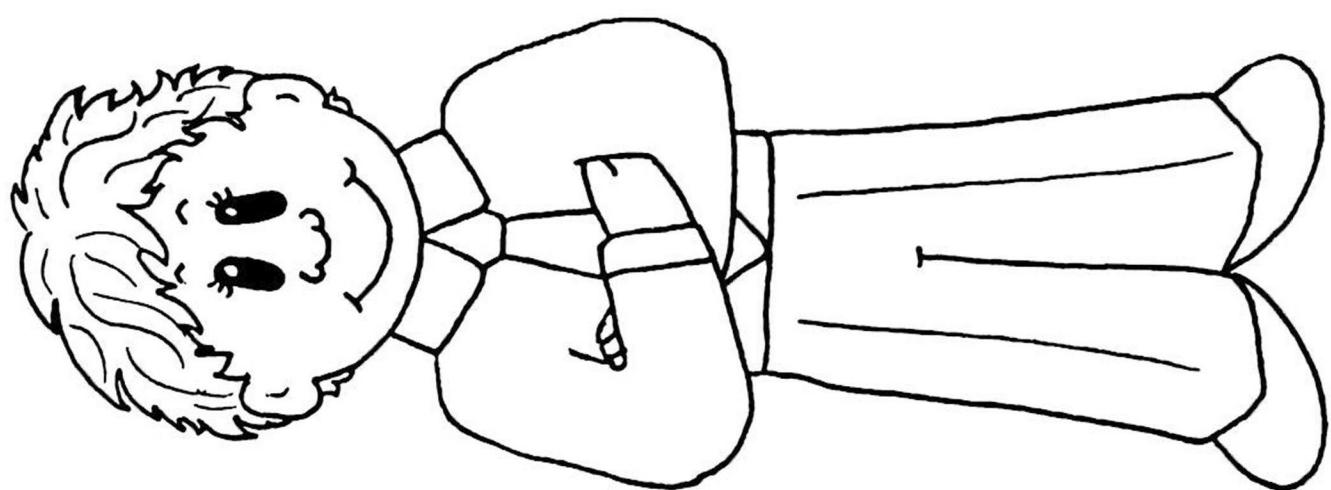

Danny's little heart was happy as he gazed out the window and thought about all of the ways he could be a missionary, just like his big brother, David.

He would begin tomorrow. He would go and rake old Mister Phillips leaves that had fallen from his trees. Yes, that would be a great way to start his missionary work.
