Story: Color graphics with markers, colored pencils, chalks, etc.
Use flannel, or laminate and cut out and place magnets on back of graphics, etc.

Game: Preparation - There are two sheets of paper for the "Prophetic Pursuit" game board. Take the "Start" and "Finish" sheet, and with a ruler and sharp blade, line up the ruler on the far right-hand side of the sheet with the edges of the game spaces, and cut a vertical line from top to bottom. Then place that sheet, overlapping it on the other remaining sheet of the game board and line up. Tape or glue edges down on the back side. Color as desired and laminate. Color, laminate and cut out game tokens. Laminate and cut out the trivia cards. You will need a die for the game. If you have previously purchased any of the "prophet" packets, you may combine the trivia game cards from all packets to form one larger game.

Play - The object of the game is to be the first team to get all three tokens from the "Start" to the "Finish". Divide the family into two, three or four teams and give each team three tokens. Determine which team will go first. Place the trivia cards face-down on the draw pile. The first team rolls the die but it does not yet move any game tokens. An opposing team draws a card and reads the trivia question to the first team. If the team answers the question correctly, it can move one of the tokens the amount shown on the die, or split the amount between two tokens. Its turn continues until it misses a question. If a question is missed, an opposing team can challenge. If the challenging team answers correctly, it can steal the amount on the die, and move one of its tokens. If it misses the question, it has to send one of its tokens back to the "Start" position. Once a token makes it to the finish, it cannot be taken out. Two players may occupy the same space at one time. The game ends when a team successfully gets all three of its tokens to the "Finish" space. If you run out of cards before play has ended, turn the pile of discarded cards over and place in the draw pile.

The Prophet, Joseph Smith, Jr.

One of the greatest men who has ever lived upon the earth was Joseph Smith, Jr. Few men in the course of history have had such a lasting effect on the world and on religion. Through his great courage and faith, we have the gospel of Jesus Christ restored to us, never to be taken from the earth again.

Joseph was the son of Joseph Smith, Sr. and Lucy Mack Smith. He was born on December 23, 1805 in Sharon, Vermont. When he arrived into the family there were already three older children. After Joseph was born, Lucy gave birth to several more children, including Ephraim who died in infancy. When the family was completed they were, in order, Alvin, Hyrum, Sophronia, Joseph Jr., Samuel Harrison, William, Catharine, Don Carlos and Lucy.

The Smith family moved several times during Joseph's childhood making it very hard for him to attend school for any length of time. In 1811, when Joseph was five years old, they moved to Lebanon, New Hampshire which is just across the Connecticut River. Two years later in 1813, all of the Smith children contracted typhoid fever. Joseph's mother, Lucy, was beside herself.

It was very common in those days for all of the children to sleep in one bed and so when one child got sick, the others did too. This bout of typhoid killed six thousand people in the Connecticut Valley but miraculously, none of the Smith children died. Joseph, however, had complications from the fever.

When Joseph finally had the strength to sit up, he began having a terrible pain in his shoulder that nothing would help. Lucy sent for the doctor who said it was just a sprain and rubbed bone liniment into it. The pain remained and so the doctor was summoned again. This time he found a very large fever sore between Joseph's shoulder and chest. The doctor lanced (cut) the sore and drained a whole quart of fluid from it. Then the pain that had been in his shoulder shot down through his body to his leg on the same side of his body. Joseph was quoted as saying that the pain was severe and how he could ever bear it?

The leg swelled terribly and Joseph suffered with this awful pain for two more weeks. Joseph was just seven years old at this time and his mother, Lucy, would carry him in her arms to try and soothe the pain. She soon became very ill herself because of all the strain and she couldn't tend to Joseph. Hyrum, who loved Joseph dearly, volunteered to take care of Joseph and rarely left his side. Hyrum would grasp Joseph's leg in his strong hands and put pressure on each side of the painful area when it would flare up, trying to relieve the pain.

After three weeks, the pain was only worse and the doctor was called again. This time he lanced the leg but the pain persisted. On the next call, the doctor cut even deeper into the leg hoping it would help but this didn't help either. It was decided that several doctors would amputate Joseph's leg. After much pleading from Lucy, the doctors relented and agreed to operate and take out the part of the leg bone that was infected.

Even at this young age, Joseph had incredible faith in the Lord. When told that he should be tied up and drink a glass of wine Joseph declined, saying he would not be bound nor would he touch liquor. He asked his father to stay with him and pleaded for his mother to leave. He knew that the Lord would take care of him.

Lucy described the operation as being horrible. The doctors removed several pieces of bone from the young boy which saved his life. During this incident, Joseph had shown his incredible strength, courage and faith. Even at the age of seven, he was teaching the world.

Joseph and Hyrum had a special relationship all of their lives. They loved each other as well as enjoyed playing sports together and against each other. They were known for having wrestling matches and for stick pulling to see who was the stronger of the two. Joseph had a great sense of humor and was known for being funny. He loved little children and was a kind and witty man.

When the family was well again, they moved to Norwich, Vermont where after several years of crop failures, they moved to Palmyra, New York. It is amazing to look back on the history of the Smith family and realize all of the things the Lord put them through just to keep moving them until they were in New York and close to the Hill Cummorah. Just like Jonah of the Bible and young Joseph, the Lord will provide ways to get us where he needs us to go.

While in Palmyra on a beautiful spring day in 1820, Joseph walked to his special place in the Sacred Grove. The young boy had been reading in the Bible the night before about receiving answers to prayers. In the book of James 1:5, Joseph had read, "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him." Joseph said that he had never had a scripture come with more power to him and so he determined that he would do just as he had read.

During these years, there was a terrible tumult going on over religion. Many religions were trying to convert people to their way of thinking, causing much confusion and trouble among the people of New York. Joseph had become very frustrated and couldn't decide which one to join. He was only fourteen at the time. All of this had prompted his asking God to help him know which church was the right one. With all the sincerity of his heart he wanted to know and so he had gone to the grove to pray.

As Joseph knelt in the warm sunshine, he could hear the rustle of the leaves. He prayed earnestly to know which of the religions was true. Just as he began to pray, Joseph realized that Satan had also heard his prayer and that Satan was angry with him. Satan never likes it when we do something good or right. He always wants to have his say but Heavenly Father will always protect us if we are on His side.

Suddenly, a bright light shown in the air above Joseph. There stood two men, dressed in vivid white and looking down at Joseph. Can you imagine how you would feel to be kneeling on the ground and see Heavenly Father and Jesus close to you? Joseph described it as this: "When the light rested upon me I saw two Personages, whose brightness and glory defy all description, standing above me in the air. One of them spake unto me, calling me by name and said, pointing to the other - This is My Beloved Son, Hear Him."

It is important for all of us to realize that Heavenly Father called Joseph by name. He knows all of our names and loves us all individually.

Joseph was told to join none of the churches but to re-establish Jesus' church as it had been in days of old. When Heavenly Father and Jesus were through speaking, Joseph became very weak but returned home and told his mother of his vision. Lucy believed him immediately and this would begin years of turmoil and struggle to bring the true gospel of Jesus Christ back to the earth.

Three years later, on September 23, 1823, the angel Moroni visited Joseph to instruct him about translating golden plates which would bring about the Book of Mormon. It wasn't until September 22, 1827 however, that Joseph was able to obtain the plates from Moroni. He was shown where to find them, buried in a box made of stone in the Hill Cummorah. This began the long task of translating. How many of you know what it means to "translate?" When Joseph translated what was on the golden plates, he read the words on the plates and interpreted the words so we could understand them. Just how did he do that?

Heavenly Father and Jesus provided a way so Joseph could interpret the writings on the plates, because they were not in our language. In the stone box was a set of very sacred eyeglasses. These glasses, when worn by Joseph, would interpret the words into English as Joseph read. They were called the Urim and Thummim. He would then repeat what he saw to someone else, a scribe who would write down the words. It was a miraculous thing, only brought about by a loving Heavenly Father for us.

Joseph had married Emma Hale on January 18, 1827, just months before receiving the plates. He and Emma lived with Joseph Sr. and Lucy at first and it was there he began translating.

Joseph and Emma went through many hard trials to get the Book of Mormon translated and published. It took years and caused much heartache to Joseph and his family. During many of these hard times, it would have been much easier to just give up and protect himself and his family but Joseph never doubted or despaired in what he was doing. This alone is a testimony to him being a Prophet.

In the following seventeen years, Joseph with the help of many others, published the Book of Mormon, established the Lord's Church and organized it on April 6, 1830. The Church began as a little seed and grew rapidly. Missionaries were sent out to other countries and lands. People recognized their teachings as the truth. People began joining and telling others about the Church and word spread like fire.

Of course, Satan had to get into the act as well by agitating others to fight against the truth. Mobs gathered and taunted the Prophet and his family for many years. Finally, Joseph and his brother Hyrum were locked up in the Carthage jail for crimes that had been made up by angry men. On June 27, 1844 as Joseph, Hyrum, Willard Richards and John Taylor sat together, they heard a mob of two hundred men shouting and heading for the jail. It was only moments until both Joseph and Hyrum lay dead. They had given their lives for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints as a testimony of its truthfulness.

Joseph and Emma had so many heartaches. One would think that the Lord would have spared Joseph and Emma from some of their trials because of his being a Prophet of God, but we know that God gives all of us trials to overcome. They refine us and make us stronger.

The following is an accounting of the children of the Prophet Joseph and his wife Emma:

- Alvin, born and died on June 15, 1828
- Thaddeus Smith, born and died on April 30, 1831 along with his twin sister, Louisa
- Julia Murdock Smith, adopted daughter born April 30, 1831 along with her twin brother, Joseph. Joseph died on March 30, 1832 from exposure caused by a mob at Hiram, Ohio.
- Joseph, the third, born November 6, 1832
- Frederick G. W. born June 20, 1836
- Alexander H. born June 2, 1838
- Don Carlos born June 13, 1840 and died August 15, 1841
- Stillborn son born 1842
- David Hyrum born November 17, 1844 five months after the Prophet Joseph's death.

Seven of Joseph and Emma's children died as infants.

Joseph Smith, Jr. was a true Prophet in every sense of the word. He knew that what he had seen and written were true. He lived what he believed to the very end. He paved the way for you and me to be able to have the Savior's gospel with us in this day. He was and is magnificent. The best way we can honor his name is to believe in him and live what he has taught. If we pray to Heavenly Father, just as young Joseph did, he will answer our prayers and let us know that Joseph was indeed a Prophet of God. When we know that Joseph was a true Prophet, then we will know that the Book of Mormon is true and that we do have the true Church upon the earth today.

DISCUSSION

- Do you have the same kind of faith that young Joseph had?
- How difficult do you think it would have been for Joseph to continue all of the work he was doing with so much opposition?
- Why do you think Joseph had so much opposition to his work?
- Have you prayed to know that Joseph Smith Jr. was a true Prophet?
- How can we show our respect and admiration for Joseph Smith?
